Fund objectives and investment policy

The fund aims to provide income and capital growth in excess of the MSCI AC Pacific ex Japan (Net Total Return) index (after fees have been deducted) over a 3 to 5 year period by investing in equities of Asia Pacific companies excluding Japan but including Australia and New Zealand.

Above is the Investment Objective of the fund. For details on the fund's Investment Policy please see the KIID.

Relevant risks associated with an investment in this fund are shown below and should be carefully considered before making any investment.

Past Performance is not a guide to future performance and may not be repeated. The value of investments and the income from them may go down as well as up and investors may not get back the amounts originally invested. Exchange rate changes may cause the value of investments to fall as well as rise. Performance data does not take into account any commissions and costs, if any, charged when units or shares of any fund, as applicable, are issued and redeemed.

Risk considerations

Currency risk: The fund may lose value as a result of movements in foreign exchange rates.

Derivatives risk: Derivatives may be used to manage the portfolio efficiently. A derivative may not perform as expected, may create losses greater than the cost of the derivative and may result in losses to the fund.

IBOR: The transition of the financial markets away from the use of interbank offered rates (IBORs) to alternative reference rates may impact the valuation of certain holdings and disrupt liquidity in certain instruments. This may impact the investment performance of the fund.

Performance risk: Investment objectives express an intended result but there is no guarantee that such a result will be achieved. Depending on market conditions and the macro economic environment, investment objectives may become more difficult to achieve.

Emerging Markets & Frontier risk: Emerging markets, and especially frontier markets, generally carry greater political, legal, counterparty, operational and liquidity risk than developed markets.

Liquidity risk: In difficult market conditions, the fund may not be able to sell a security for full value or at all. This could affect performance and could cause the fund to defer or suspend redemptions of its shares.

Operational risk: Operational processes, including those related to the safekeeping of assets, may fail. This may result in losses to the fund.

Information relating to changes in fund manager, investment objective, benchmark and corporate action information

Some performance differences between the fund and the benchmark may arise because the fund performance is calculated at a different valuation point from the benchmark. With effect from 14.12.2009 Schroders Far East Income Fund changed its benchmark from the MSCI AC Pacific (Japan at 10%) to the MSCI AC Pacific ex Japan. The full track record of the previous index has been kept and chainlinked to the new one. The fund's performance should be assessed against its target benchmark, being to exceed the MSCI AC Pacific ex Japan (Net Total Return) index, and compared against the Investment Association Asia Pacific ex Japan sector average return. The investment manager invests on a discretionary basis and is not limited to investing in accordance with the composition of this benchmark.

Benchmarks:

With effect from 14.12.2009 Schroders Far East Income Fund changed its name to Schroders Asian Income Fund

The investment manager invests on a discretionary basis and there are no restrictions on the extent to which the fund's portfolio and performance may deviate from the benchmark. The investment manager will invest in companies or sectors not included in the benchmark in order to take advantage of specific investment opportunities.
