Investment Objective and Philosophy

The Cohen & Steers SICAV European Real Estate Securities Fund (the "Fund") seeks current income and capital appreciation by investing in REITs and other publicly traded real estate companies located in Europe. The Fund seeks to identify companies that we believe have superior growth prospects and attractive valuations. We believe the European markets offer the potential for superior returns based on variations in country-specific economic and property sector cycles and the diversity of business models. Within the European real estate securities markets, we believe there will be alpha generation opportunities for well-resourced, disciplined, active managers.

Investment Approach

Cohen & Steers employs an integrated, relative value investment process. A proprietary valuation model ranks European real estate securities on price/net asset value ("NAV") and price/dividend discount model value ("DDM"), which we believe are the primary factors of real estate security valuation. Analysts incorporate both quantitative and qualitative analysis in their estimates. The company research process includes an evaluation of management, strategy, property quality, financial strength and corporate structure. Judgments with respect to risk management, diversification, liquidity and other factors overlay the model's output and drive the portfolio managers' investment decisions.

Past Performance does not predict future returns.

Performance returns stated net of fees. There is no guarantee that any historical trend illustrated in this report will be repeated in the future, and there is no way to predict when such a trend will begin. There is no guarantee that any market forecast in this report will be realized. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance quoted. The investment return and the principal value of an investment will fluctuate and shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Periods less than one year are not annualized. Returns are historical and include change in share price and reinvestment of all distributions. There is no guarantee that any investment objective will be achieved. If the currency in which the past performance is displayed differs from the currency of the country in which an investor resides, then the investor should be aware that due to the exchange rate fluctuations the performance shown may be higher or lower if converted into the investor's local currency. An investor cannot invest directly in an index, and index performance does not reflect the deduction of fees, expenses or taxes.

Discount / Premium to NAV—For the real estate/property securities in the portfolio, the price of the REIT security divided by the average Net Asset Value – a measure of the entity's assets less its liabilities – over the last 12 months. The value for this field is the weighted arithmetic average across the portfolio's REIT holdings.

Weighted Avg Market Cap—The weighted average market capitalization refers to a type of stock market index construction that is based on the market capitalization of the index's constituent stocks. The weighted average market capitalization is determined by multiplying the current market price by the number of outstanding shares and then taking an average to determine the weighting.

% Debt to Asset Value—Debt to Asset Value is the weighted-average percentage of assets financed by debt of the underlying fund companies, on a portfolio and benchmark level. Calculated by adding short-term and long-term debt and then dividing by the company's total assets.
